

Speech Writing Checklist

Introduction:

- Introduced myself and greeted the audience.
- Grabbed audience's attention to draw them in to the speech.
- Strongly stated my main/overall point of view.
- Asked a rhetorical question and mentioned the points I will talk about.

Body:

- Have one paragraph for each of my points.
- Mentioned at least one point of view that is different to mine (contrast).
- Connected each paragraph in the body of my speech to the previous paragraph.
- Paragraphs follow a logical structure and I relate my points back to my main view.
- Used evidence (facts or statistics) to back up my points.
(If primarily appealing to reason and using logic/evidence = argumentative writing.)
- Appealed to audience's feelings by using emotional language/imagery or an anecdote.
(If primarily appealing to emotions to change opinion = persuasive writing.)
- Have a powerful phrase which I repeat.
- Used repetition and rhetorical questions.
- Used at least one of the following:
alliteration, humour/hyperbole, metaphors, similes, quotes.
- Conveyed a sense of necessity/urgency (e.g. series of short sentences).
- Used words like 'I', 'we', 'our' and 'you' to directly connect with and include the audience.

Conclusion:

- Comes to a conclusion which has been given weight by the body of my speech.
- Summarised the points in my speech.
- Thanked the audience for listening and appealed to them once more (asking them to think about what was said or asking a rhetorical question).
